About the

Olweus Bullying Prevention Program

The Olweus Bullying Prevention Program (OBPP) is the most-respected and best-known violence prevention program available today. Backed by over 35 years of research that proves its effectiveness, OBPP is more than just an occasional curriculum presented during a school semester—OBPP is a year-round program for positive change.

OBPP is used throughout an entire school setting and encourages involvement from all students, teachers, counselors, parents, and community leaders. With OBPP, positive change is experienced throughout the whole school climate—school becomes a place where all students feel safe, are ready to learn, and can achieve academic success.

With OBPP, students know they have support from adults throughout their school and community.

Available in English and Spanish, the 42-question packet includes the following:
- Questions about cyber bullying and student demographics, plus two questions you can customize for your individual school
- Your school’s findings shown in a PowerPoint presentation
